Press Release

The human body is one of nature's most fascinating creations. Here are some fun facts: The body is bigger when we wake up. During the day, bone cartilage compresses and we lose an average of one centimeter between waking up and going to bed. As well as being the largest organ in the human body, the skin renews itself a thousand times over the course of a lifetime. Imagine the rest of all the amazing facts! So it's no surprise that the body is also a source of wonder for artists, and here's our selection of the week looking at the human anatomy. Let's get physical...
